THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

AN EARLY MORNING WEDDING AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH.

Marriage of a Washingtonian to Baltimore Physician-Other Events

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated this morning at half-past eight at St. Patrick's rectory, this city, when Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford united in marriage Anna M., eldest daughter of Mrs. Nannie F. Polk of this city, formerly of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. J. Leland Boush of Norfolk, Va. The bride was attired in a handsome robe of hand-embroidered English net over white taffeta, and wore a white lace hat daintily trimmed in blush roses and maiden hair fern. Her only ornament was a brooch of diamonds and pearls, a gift of the groom. The best man was Mr. Junius Roane Wilcox of Norfolk, Va., and the bride's attendant, little James Kenneth Polk, her nephew. After the ceremony, at which only the immediate relations and a few outof-town guests were present, the bridal party was charmingly entertained at a dainty breakfast. Among the many hand-some presents of cut glass and silver roceived by the bride from friends here and abroad is a silver service over three hundred years old, an heirloom, presented to her by her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Boush left on the noon train for an extended northern trip and will be at home to their friends after September 15, at 137 College place, Norfolk, Va.

The Fleur de Lis Club celebrated its first anniversary last night at the home of Mrs. Olive Souder. Only club members were

The Misses Hadassah, Ruth and Dorothy Felton will be bridesmaids at the wedding of their cousin, Miss Ethel Conway Peters, and Capt. Smedley Darlington Butler, U. S. M. C., which will be celebrated this week at Bay Head, N. J. Besides the Misses Felton of Chicago, the others attending the bride will be Miss Margaret Felton of Philadelphia, another cousin of the bride; Miss Louise Black of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Louise Lippitt and Miss Eleanor H. Weeden of Providence, R. I., and Miss Pauline Peters of Columbus, Ohio, another cousin of the bride. Two sisters of the bride, the Misses Edith M. and Hope C. Peters, will be maids of honor. The bridegroom is the son of Representative and Mrs. Butler of Pennsylvania. Mr. Samuel Butler will be best man for his brother, and the ushers will be officers of the Marine Corps. Capt. Butler will take his bride to the Philippines, where he will be stationed.

Secretary Shaw, with his wife and daughters, arrived yesterday at Squirrel Island, Maine, where Mrs. and the Misses Shaw will spend most of the summer. When the family is reunited here in the fall Mrs. Shaw may select a hotel for their winter residence, as the Secretary has relinquished his lease on the house they have occupied for several years.

length of the church.

Lohengrin's wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Caroline Kendrick of Philadelphia. "O. Promise Me" was played during the ceremony, with Mendelssohn' wedding march as a recessional.

A large number of guests were invited to attend the wedding lunch, and a taste and care in floral decoration equal to that of the stately old church was exercised in the dining room. Many handsome presents were received. During the afternoon Dr.
